A CORRECTION OF THE MISREPRESENTATIONS CONTAINED IN BARAD-DUR #33:

The editor and publisher of ARMAGEDDONIA wish to comment on Jack Chalker's article "Personnel Problems" which he printed in the last issue of Barad-dur.

1. Mr. Dygert did not write the editorial. Editorials are written by the editor. Mr. Dygert did co-sign the editorial, though.
2. The editorial did not say that players should resign if confronted with the Chalker Rule. It simply expressed our sympathy with Mr. Gilliland's position.
3. The editorial did not say that we would give unqualified support to anyone resigning in protest over gamesmaster misconstruction of the rules.
4. After all Jack, you did ask for comments from other gamesmasters.
5. And who are you to complain about players who quit???
6. Do you enjoy going off half-cocked and jumping to conclusions?

(cont.)

7. Mr. Dygert has never quit a game, and wonders what right you have, Mr. Chalker, to assume that he would, even if confronted with the Chalker Rule or some equally inane ruling?

ATTENTION ALL OMNIBUS PLAYERS:

Since the publication of the gamelist in the last issue, two players have resigned. We have hunted up two replacements willing to part with $4 of their hard-earned cash, but in order to be fair to these new players, we have done a slight shuffling of players. Here is the new gamelist:

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY: 1st Lt. Rodney C. Walker, TUSLOG Det. 183,
APO New York, N.Y. 09254.

ENGLAND: Charles P. Alexander, 714 E. University #1,
Ann Arbor, Mich. 48103.

FRANCE: Steve Powlesland, Box 408 Walker Hall, Pomona College,
Claremont, California 91711.

GERMANY: LCpl Mike Celestre, D.P.I. #3, MCB Camp Pendleton,
California 92055.

ITALY: Greg Long, 3526 SW 112, Seattle, Washington 98146.

RUSSIA: Ernest Carrillo, 2417 Webster, Berkeley, Calif. 94705.

TURKEY: Gail Schow, 1253 Rudgear Rd., Walnut Creek, Calif. 94596.

The Deadline for the Spring 1914 moves is extended to 15 December 1965. Send the moves to J.J. Dygert, 2090 Blackwood Dr, Walnut Creek, Calif. 94596.

All players should note two changes on the map. First, I left out an "a" in Bessarabia. Second, an additional province is being added to Austria, in order to make the Russian front more fluid. The new province--a non-supply center--is Bukovina. It borders Galicia, Kiev, Bessarabia, Rumania, Transylvania, and Debrecen.

ARMA-2

Winter 1901

Builds:

AUSTRIA (von Metzke): A Budapest & A Vienna.

ENGLAND (Powlesland & Maddux): F Edinburgh.

It is said, that twenty-four millions ought to prevail over two hundred thousand. True; if the constitution of a kingdom be a problem of arithmetic. This sort of discourse does well enough with the lamp-post for its second; to men who may reason calmly, it is ridiculous. The will of the many, and their interest, must very often differ; and great will be the difference when they make an evil choice.

Edmund Burke

A group of Seattle players, headed by Greg Long, has challenged the LTA to a game of team Diplomacy. The Seattle people will play France, Austria, and Russia. The LTA will play England, Germany, and Italy. Units which may not be dislodged will stand in Bulgaria and the three Turkish supply centers. All other provinces will be open game. The first team to have 18 units on the board following a winter turn, will win. Jim Dygert will captain the LTA powers, and Greg Long will captain the Seattle powers. It is the duty of the team captain to submit the moves for the whole team, but each country's orders must be signed by the player of that country. The other two LTA players are Clyde Johnson and Brian Bailey. Mr. Long should inform the gamemaster of the positions to be played by the other two Seattle players, as well as himself. The Spring 1901 moves will be due on or before Thursday, 1 Dec. 1966 c/o Charles Turner, 843 Santa Fe, Albany, California 94706.

P.S. It is possible to move directly from the Black Sea to the Aegean Sea, and from the Aegean to the Black Sea.
